

August 2018 Newsletter

Greetings!

We have some very exciting news this month; but first a little warning - beware which chair you sit in at Beautonics! We have 2 members of staff expecting babies next January, within days of each other. For Hardeep this will be her third, and for Jade it's her first. Congratulations to them both.

With this in mind, please be patient with both if they take a little longer than usual with things, especially in this heat. We are giving them extra spaces between appointments so they can catch their breath and still be able to give the same high standard of care to you.

As I write this I have been interviewing for a new team member to replace Alanis on a permanent basis, and I am hopeful that I will have someone in place at the beginning of September. So next month I should be able to introduce them to you.
