

January 2019 Newsletter

Greetings!

Happy New Year! I do hope that you managed to do whatever you wanted over the festive period and are now ready to face this new year with revived gusto!

As you know Beautonics faces it's own challenges for the best part of 2019 with just Lisa and myself working to provide you with the same high standard of care that has become synonymous with Beautonics. I have decided not to look for another member of staff and all the disruption that causes, and am quite looking forward to reconnecting with clients that I haven't seen for a while. Just to remind you of our new opening times at least till the end of September I've added the poster below again.

As soon as we know that Jade and Hardeep have been safely delivered of their bundles of joy we will let you know, and I hope to have some piccies for you next month.

We'll continue to have some offers to the end of January, while stocks last. See below for more information.
