

October 2019 Newsletter

Greetings!

I'm sad to say that Lisa is still not back at work yet, her recovery is taking a little longer than originally thought. Thank you to everyone who has had to rearrange appointments, your patience is very much appreciated. Until I know when she's returning I'm not making any appointments for her before November, just in case.

However, Jade is back as of 1st October and Hardeep will be back before the end of the month, hip hip hooray!!!

Dare I say it but people have already turned their thoughts to Christmas and making bookings in time for that, so you may want to think about your plans and where we can help and then get it all booked in.
